Policies & Procedures

I have read and agree to be bound by the Raisin Region Conservation Authority's policies and procedures outlined in the "Registration Handbook" including: cancellation, changes, camper responsibilities, etc.

Please answer the following questions:
Please specify and outline associated symptoms if your child has moderate/serious allergies.

Please specify if your child has a medical condition (e.g. asthma) that may impact them while at camp?

Please specify if your child has a clinical diagnoses (e.g. learning disability) that may affect them while at camp?

There may be interest from local media. Do you object to your child's picture and/or name appearing in the newspaper or on television?
Yes No

Do you object to your child's picture and/or name being used in promotional materials (e.g. Newsletter, social media, brochure) by the RRCA?
Yes No

Daily Themes:

March 16: Winter Wildlife. Spot the wildlife at Cooper March that don't hibernate or migrate! Campers will learn about animals that are active in the winter and find out what they do to survive our Canadian winter.

March 17: Maple Madness. Maple syrup is a Canadian staple. Campers will learn about maple syrup making, tap maple trees for sap and sample maple taffy on snow.

March 18: Nature Explorers. There are many things to see when exploring the trails at Cooper Marsh. Campers will learn how to identify birds using binoculars and listen for birdcalls on a guided tour.

March 19: Wilderness Survival. From shelter building to orienteering, campers will learn basic survival skills for the outdoors.

March 20: Art & Nature. Combining art and craft techniques with natural projects, campers will create art inspired by and using materials from nature.

Please note that all days will include both indoor and outdoor activities (weather-permitting) so please bring indoor shoes and dress appropriately for cold weather!

My child would like to enroll for the following day(s) of camp (please check appropriate boxes):
